GEORGE LEWIS OF Y.M.C.A. WINS TEN-MILE ROAD RACE, ESTABLISHING RECORD TIME

Beats Felix Luckotvitch on Home Stretch; Winner's Time Is 50 Minutes 41 2-5 Seconds; Most Thrilling Race Seen Here in Years; Jeffrey, Last Year's Winner, Is Fourth; G. W. Giolma Wins the Junior Event

In the most keenly-fought race seen in Victoria for many years George Lewis, running under the colors of the Y.M.C.A., won the annual ten-mile road race staged this morning under the auspices of the Britannia Post of the Canadian Legion.

Felix Luckotvitch of Shawinigan Lake after holding the lead over the greater part of the distance faltered on the last stretch and was beaten in a heart-breaking finish.

Lewis established the record time of 50 minutes 41 2-5 seconds. Luckotvitch's time was less than three seconds slower than that of the winner.

C. Fillmore of the Y.M.C.A. was third.

Jeffrey of the Britannia Post, last year's winner, was fourth.

An even dozen runners faced the starter, Chief of Police John E. Lewis jumped into the lead at the start of the race followed by Fillmore and Luckotvitch.

At Harriet Road the position of the leaders was unchanged. Lewis was still running well within himself and was able to ward off the threat.

The turning point at the top of the four-mile hill found Luckotvitch still in the lead followed closely by Lewis.

On reaching Gorge Road Lewis endeavored to pass Luckotvitch but found that the Shawinigan Lake boy was still running well within himself and was able to ward off the threat.

Lewis continued to trail until turning onto Government Street when he was able to pass Luckotvitch.

The prizes for both events were four miles with a time of 25 minutes 15 2-5 seconds. H. Kersey was second, H. Hain third, G. Stewart fourth and Alan Wright fifth.

The prizes for both events will be presented at a dance to be held at the Foresters' Hall on Thursday night.

POISON LIQUORS CAUSE OF A DEATH

Five U.S. Prohibition Detectives in San Francisco Bay Region Are Ill

San Francisco, April 15.—One man lost his life, another is reported dying, and five under-cover federal prohibition agents are ill as the result of drinking bad liquor in the San Francisco Bay city area. The fatalities were in Oakland. Dave Mahoney, fifty-six, died. His companion, Hugh Morgan, fifty-one, was made critically ill. Poison alcohol was given as the cause.

The illness of the under-cover agents was made known by Federal Administrator E. R. Bohner, who announced he had made a request for some form of insurance to protect his men against liquor hazards. He said he had been told no insurance company in the country would take an under-cover agent as a risk.

HUGE QUANTITIES OF OIL PURCHASED FOR ISLAND ROADS

Ten Carloads to Be Used in Surfacing Trunk Highways Here

Engineers Ask Motorists' Co-operation in Protecting Surfaces

Ten carloads of bituminous oil material have been ordered by the Provincial Public Works Department for an early start in the surfacing of Vancouver Island roads. This will represent the largest oiling programme ever undertaken by the Provincial authorities in British Columbia.

FINISH BEFORE SUMMER

Weather conditions will determine largely the date when actual oiling operations will start, but it is planned to get them under way in the near future so that they may be finished if possible before the usual summer tourist rush starts.

Engineers of the Public Works Department are making their plans with a view to causing motorists as little inconvenience as possible. They issued an appeal to drivers to use caution in driving over newly-oiled roads, both for the sake of the road surface and their own cars. If motorists will co-operate with the Government in this way serious inconvenience to traffic will be entirely avoided, it is expected.

Tenders will be called by the department for the construction of the Sloan-Silverton Road, which will open up important mineral areas in the interior of the Province.

Public Works engineers are busy now locating the site of the new Savona Bridge over the Thompson River west of Kamloops, one of the largest bridges to be installed this year.

GERM THEORY OF CANCER IS NOT TRUE

Control of Disease Problem of Genetics, Rochester Convention is Told

Rochester, N.Y., April 15.—Cancer is a disease due to hereditary or constitutional susceptibilities and not traceable to germs, it was asserted at the annual meeting of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology here yesterday.

Dr. Maud Slye of Chicago, said sixteen years of experimentation with thousands of mice had convinced her control of the disease was largely a problem of genetics.

Dr. Alfred Scott Warthin of Ann Arbor, Mich., supported Dr. Slye's view in a later address.

SUCCESS REPORTED

Others stated in medical research made public were:

The announcement of Dr. Frederick M. Allen of the Psychiatric Institute of Morristown, N.J., that a new treatment for the disease known as "mytilin" obtained from the leaves of huckleberries, had been found by Dr. Richard Wagner and himself.

Disclosure of Dr. M. J. C. Marsh of Springfield, N.Y., that mice afflicted with tumors had been benefited by confinement in air of three atmospheres, and that the treatment might at some future time become beneficial to man.

FATS AND OILS

Announcement of Dr. S. B. Wolbach of the Harvard Medical School of the finding that the introduction of fats and oils into the body may affect the lungs in a manner not unlike congestion.

The report of Dr. A. D. Hirschfeld of the University of Minnesota that he had found the injection of potassium iodide beneficial in relieving respiratory troubles, notable bronchitis and asthma.

Dr. Allen said the "mytilin" treatment for diabetes had not yet been perfected, but it had proved effective in experiments with dogs. The Northern troops were entrenched on the Yangtze River opposite Nanking, and had been firing upon the oil ship and exchanging fire with Chinese Nationalist troops on the Nanking side of the river. The Ford at first returned the fire with its machine guns, the report said, and the British cruiser Emerald, anchored alongside, also turned its machine guns upon the Chinese. The Chinese ceased firing at the Melan and concentrated upon the Ford, which was hit in many places, but suffered no casualties among its crew or material damage to itself.

While the conference meeting date has not been finally set, exchange between London, Tokyo and Washington have led the State Department to believe the time selected will be satisfactory for the British and Japanese Government previously have indicated a meeting later than June 1 would be preferable.

EARTHQUAKES' TOLL IN CHILE RECKONED

Thirteen Deaths There and in Western Argentina Yesterday Reported

Santiago, Chile, April 15.—Santiago, Valparaiso, San Bernardino and other points along the Chilean coast, and Mendoza, across the Andes in Argentina, were taking in victories to-day of the loss of life and damage caused by the series of earthquakes yesterday.

Police reports indicated seven persons were killed in Santiago, and that in San Bernardino a mother and her baby were killed in the collapse of their home. Fifty-five persons were injured in Santiago.

TOLL AT MENDOZA

It appeared at first as though the shocks had brought a long list of casualties in Mendoza, some reports saying it might reach 100, but a message from the provincial government to President de Alurao said the dead numbered two, with fifty persons injured, seven of them seriously.

The damage at Mendoza was considerable.

SAANICH APPROVES WATER AGREEMENT

By-law For Betterments Mooted; Opponents Would Use Resources Available

The Saanich Council last night unanimously approved the water agreement with the city, to be effective for three years from April 1, 1927.

The city will supply water at a rate of 7 1/2 cents per 1,000 gallons for the first 175,000,000 gallons annually used. For all above this amount, up to 240,000,000 gallons, Saanich will pay 7 cents per 1,000 gallons, and will be given a rate of 5 cents per 1,000 gallons for all water consumed in excess of this total.

FUNDS IN HAND

The council was informed that about $15,000 is now available for waterworks betterment, made up of nearly $4,000 profits from 1926 material suitable for duplication of Cloverdale main worth $4,000, estimated profits of $5,000 from water sales in 1927 up to April 30, and the refund from Victoria of $5,000.

FAVOR LOAN FOR WORK

Reeve Crouch and Councillor McWilliam advocated submission of a by-law to raise $15,000 for duplication of the main, and the necessary three-fifth majority.

At the suggestion of Councillor McWilliam the council adjourned until 8:30 o'clock next Tuesday, when the proposals will be discussed in detail.

Prince of Wales Given Information on Instalment Plans

Woolwich, Eng., April 15.—The Prince of Wales has just learned the meaning of the "hire-purchase system." An instalment buying is called him. He seems favorably impressed with it.

Making one of his unexpected East End jaunts, he visited the Royal Arcade, Co-operative Exhibition at the Woolwich Dockyard, where he showed keen interest in a machine which made mince-meat, sausages and ice cream, all by electricity.

Within the reach of a poor man's pocket, he asked, and then was told the machine was sold on the "hire-purchase" system.

"What's that?" he inquired.

Someone explained and the Prince nodded approvingly.

In the course of his trip, he descended among the costermongers of Bercostoff Square. Most of them left their barrows to shake his hand, and one woman pressed a pair of fat hips on him.

"Nice to take home to the palace for tea, sir," she said, beaming.

"They certainly do look nice, Madame," he smilingly replied.

U.S. MARCH FOREIGN TRADE $787,000,000

Washington, April 15.—Foreign trade during March produced a balance of trade of $33,000,000 favorable to the United States, the Commerce Department announced to-day in estimating the month's exports at $410,000,000 as against imports of $377,000,000.

Compared with March, 1926, when the country's exports were $374,000,000 and its imports $442,000,000, the figures showed a marked increase in the outgoing trade and a contraction in "incoming" materials. The import figures for March, 1927, however, were larger than those of any other month since April, 1926.

CAPT. R. DOLLAR SAYS U.S. POLICY IN CHINA NOT STRONG ENOUGH

Aged But Vigorous Head of Steamship Company Scores Washington Officials

Says His Firm Will Not be Driven Out of Disturbed Oriental Republic

San Francisco, April 15.—Capt. Robert Dollar, president of the Dollar Steamship Company, to-day scored U.S. Government officials for their Chinese policy, declaring that the time the Dollar liner President Grant was steaming southward to San Diego to take on 1,600 United States marines for China, "that what we need in the Orient is backbone."

Capt. Dollar, eighty-three years old, white-haired and dignified, was quoted by newspaper men as using mild profanity as he aired his views. He read a confidential dispatch from the Dollar Line's Tientsin office as follows:

"American Minister and Consul-General, after conference, have instructed Americans leave soon as possible. Anticipate serious trouble."

NOT PLANNING TO LEAVE

"That got my Scotch up," Capt. Dollar snapped. "The idea of the Government telling me I've got to quit China. Why, before I'd get out of China, I'd tell the Government to go."

The reporters stopped up their ears at this juncture, and when Capt. Dollar had finished his remarks on that subject, they resumed listening.

"Here's the cable we sent back to Tientsin," Capt. Dollar continued. "We can't consent to vacate parts of China and desert American interests. We are in China to stay permanently, and the American Government must protect us. Ultimately the Red Bolsheviks will be destroyed."

OWN PROPERTY

After reading the message, Capt. Dollar continued his remarks. "We've got buildings, offices, warehouses with Chinese tenants. We have adopted a policy of permanence in China. We don't lease or rent property. We bought."

"And now, because the Government thinks we're going to have a little trouble, we're told to get out. But I'm not going to. I'm mad clean through about our policy in China. What we need is a little backbone. Tell these devils they ain't got to do these things. Wishy-washy people tell you the British and we shouldn't send troops. Why not? If I'm a peaceable law-abiding citizen, I don't care if there is one lawless fellow in front of my home. But if I'm planning to commit a crime, I don't want any of that."

BLAMES RUSSIANS

Capt. Dollar expressed the belief the United States would escape trouble with China, but blamed the disorder in the Far East on the Russian Reds. He said the Cantonese had accepted Russian backing because they had to have help, and that the Bolsheviks were egging on the Chinese to violence.

E. CARROLL TO BE WEEK IN HOSPITAL

Indications To-day Patient in South Carolina Rousing From State of Coma

Greenville, S.C., April 15.—Earl Carroll, New York theatrical producer, had not regained consciousness to-day, although there were indications he was beginning to rouse from the coma into which he lapsed two days ago while en route to the penitentiary at Atlanta, Georgia, to begin a sentence of a year for perjury in connection with his bathtub party in his theatre.

He took a little liquid nourishment late last night, the first that had passed his lips since he had been hospitalized. Until then his physicians had been forced to resort to glucose injections to provide nourishment.

The patient is in an acute collapse coma and these attacks most frequently occur in the type of illness from which he suffers, the statement said, adding that the illness had resulted from the "severe mental strain under which he had been laboring for the last two months."

The physicians said his condition since he had been removed from the train at noon Wednesday had been serious.

Several members of Carroll's family, including his wife, have come to bedside.

WEEK IN HOSPITAL

With the state of collapse persisting, his physicians had had no estimate as to how much time must elapse before he could be taken to Atlanta. The duration of his illness, they said, could not now be predicted, but they said that "under no circumstances should the patient be moved before a week or ten days, and then only after careful medical consideration."

Chief Deputy Marshal William C. Pinkley, who is here as Carroll's official guardian, said he would make no attempt to move the prisoner until physicians advised the step could be made with safety to his health.

NEW CANTONESE ADMINISTRATION MAY BE FORMED

Reports Say Chinese Nationalist Government at Hankow Impeached by Vote at the Kuomintang Party Conference in Nanking, and That Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek, Leader of Moderates, Will Establish New Government at Nanking

Shanghai, April 15.—A resolution impeaching the Cantonese Government at Hankow was adopted at to-day's meeting of the Kuomintang (the Cantonese political party) at Nanking, Quo Tai-Chi, Cantonese Commissioner of Foreign Affairs here, was advised to-night.

In consequence, General Chiang Kai-Shek, the Cantonese generalissimo and foe of the extremists in the Cantonese ranks, is expected to establish a new Government at Nanking.

NANKING INQUIRY PLAN OF CHEN IS SURPRISE TO U.S.

Washington Says Cantonese Refusal to Admit Responsibility Creates Obstacle

Chen Sent Notes to Britain, U.S., France, Japan and Italy

Washington, April 15.—Suggestions by Eugene Chen, Cantonese Foreign Minister, in replying to the five-power note demanding reparations for the Nanking outrages, that an international commission should be created to investigate the affair, was a surprise to Washington and prompted immediate speculation on the position the United States Government would take.

Chen's refusal to admit Nationalist troops were responsible for the outbreak, which resulted in the slaying of one United States citizen and several other foreigners, was regarded with concern in some quarters, while in others it admittedly was viewed as presenting another obstacle in dealing with an already different situation.

OPINIONS DIFFER

Foreign sources were absolutely in the dark concerning the proceedings. It was freely predicted, however, that the Radical element would trim its sails in an effort to effect unity within the Kuomintang. Others disagreed with this view, holding that would be a battle to the last ditch between Michael Borodin, Russian adviser to the Cantonese Government at Hankow, on the one hand, and General Chiang on the other.

90,000 ON STRIKE NOW IN SHANGHAI

Demonstrations Are Protest Against Chiang's Raids on Red Unions

Shanghai, April 15.—Ninety thousand persons were on strike to-day in Shanghai, protesting against the Cantonese raids on the Red unions. The strike leaders to leave their posts as a protest against General Chiang Kai-Shek's raids on Red labor unions. Public utilities were paralyzed, and the city was in a state of confusion. No disturbances were reported, as Chiang's men were closely watching the laborers after having seized most of their guns and ammunition.

The local situation, as far as foreigners are concerned, simmered down to a point where the municipal council has lessened the curfew hours. Beginning to-night they will be from midnight to 4 a.m. This does not mean, however, that the defence forces will relax their vigilance. Full patrols will be maintained at all danger points.

FIRING ACROSS YANGTZE

Shanghai, April 15.—Although it was reported that Pukow, on the north bank of the Yangtze River opposite Nanking, had been retaken by Cantonese forces, firing across the river between Pukow and Nanking to-day seemed to belie the report.

Communication with the Nanking region was not very steady, and at last accounts the Cantonese were entrenched on the south bank of the Yangtze at Nanking, and the Northern forces, under the leadership of General Sun Chuan-Fang, original defender of Shanghai, were on the northern bank in Pukow. All vessels passing through the zone were subject to fire from both banks.

It was reported the British gunboat Mantle, fired on from the south bank, had repelled with Lewis guns. There were no casualties.

WARSHIPS SENT

Shanghai, April 15.—The United States cruiser Cincinnati and the destroyer Preble left for Hankow to-day, presumably to protect United States citizens as they evacuate the city. The destroyer Nea will proceed to Hankow tomorrow.

Mayor of Lodz, Poland, Murdered

London, April 15.—Reuter's Warsaw correspondent says the assassination of Mayor Cymarski of Lodz yesterday is believed to have had a political motive. The mayor, he adds, was a strong opponent of the communists who recently started intensive propaganda at Lodz.

MR. JUSTICE MORRISON IS NAMED COMMISSIONER ON CARLOW-GAUTHIER CHARGES

Will Sit in Victoria to Investigate Allegations in Affidavit Next Thursday; Inquiry Into Whisky Deal Charges Brought Before Legislature Set for April 25

Mr. Justice Morrison, senior puisne judge of the Supreme Court of British Columbia, was today appointed a royal commissioner to investigate the Carlow and Gauthier charges against Cabinet Ministers made during the recent session of the Legislature.

Two separate commissions were issued, one covering one set of allegations and the other the second. The inquiries will accordingly be distinct from one another, although conducted by the same commissioner.

TO BE HELD IN VICTORIA

Both will be held at the courthouse in Victoria, the Carlow hearings starting at 10 a.m. next Thursday and the Gauthier hearing at the same hour April 25. The proceedings are expected to be brief, possibly not longer than a day in each case.

The principal Carlow charges deal with an alleged scheme whereby Frank Carlow of Victoria was to secure an agency for the sale of liquor to the Government for the purpose of devoting the commission to Liberal Party work. Pursuant to this arrangement he received the commission on 2,000 cases of whisky, using part of the money for campaign purposes before the scheme was abandoned, according to an affidavit by Carlow. He also charged that a dicker was made whereby L. G. Thomas of Vancouver was to get a lease of some English Bay foreshore in return for a payment of $5,000 to the party.

The Gauthier allegations concern an alleged deal whereby John A. Gauthier was to buy liquor in Britain for the Government, later splitting the commissions with a member of the Cabinet.

DENIED AS SLANDERS

The charges made by both men came before the Legislature in the form of affidavits contained in resolutions made by H. D. Twigg, Victoria member, demanding investigations. They were denied emphatically as base slanders by all the Ministers involved.

The commissions issued to Mr. Justice Morrison are very simple in form.

Pursuant to the Twigg resolution

LOCAL MEN BACKING SCHEME TO DEVELOP CARIBOO INDUSTRY

Victoria Concern Behind Exploitation of Diatomaceous Earth

Huge Deposit Found in Bridge Borings; Valuable Commercially

Leading Victoria business men are behind a company which will develop vast diatomaceous earth deposits recently discovered in the Quesnel district. The extent of these deposits became known when Public Works Department engineers uncovered them in boring for the foundations of a new bridge across the Fraser River at Quesnel.

The company has its head office in Victoria with W. A. Laming as managing director. Other executive officers being F. B. Pemberton, treasurer; H. C. Holmes, vice-president, and W. M. Galbraith, secretary.

Mr. Laming, who has a wide knowledge of the uses of this most versatile material, was in Quesnel last Fall to look over the ground.

Apparently satisfied with what he discovered during the course of his investigations at that time, Mr. Laming returned a few days ago in company with W. E. Canavan of Victoria. A camp has been established and samples will be taken from different portions of four square miles of leased Government land near the Big Bend, eight miles upstream from Quesnel. The deposit is said to be forty feet in thickness.

FIREPROOF MATERIAL

According to Mr. Laming, diatomaceous earth is composed of the prehistoric siliceous roots of the diatoms plant, commonly called "horse tail." It consists of infinitesimal air cells encased in silica.

The material is fire, sound and heat

OLD-STYLE cords used in cord tires will stretch about 16% without breaking. If a blow from the road stretches such a cord more than 16%, it breaks. The tire is injured at that point.

60% greater elasticity in the tire carcass gives an obvious increase in mileage—an increase which Goodyear users enjoy from every Goodyear-made cord—for all Goodyear cords are made of SUPERTWIST, and only Goodyear Cords.

Vancouver Banker Moved to California

Vancouver, April 15.—A familiar face is soon to be withdrawn from the banking circles of Vancouver in the transfer of Mr. A. M. Blott, for five years accountant at the head office of the Bank of Montreal to the office in San Francisco. Mr. Blott is leaving about May 10 and will take up the position of joint manager of the branch. Incidentally, the bank there got re-christened this week, being named the Bank of Montreal at San Francisco, in place of the British American Bank as hitherto.

Whitewater Mines Strike Better Ore

Vancouver, April 15.—Strike of ore in No. 12 level of considerably higher grade than any yet encountered on Whitewater ground is reported by W. H. Burgess, managing director of the Whitewater Mines Limited, one of the best-known lead-zinc-silver properties of the Slocan district. Pending construction of the 150-ton capacity mill which will be operating in early summer, the company has been actively pushing the exploratory work, shipping only sufficient ore to Trail to pay expenses and a slight profit on the operations. Part of this work has been to extend No. 12 level in a westerly direction, and this had proceeded for a distance of about eighty feet when it struck a full face of silver-lead-zinc ore that exceeds its richness anything previously opened up in the Whitewater development. The drive on this ore body will be continued according to word from Mr. Burgess in order to define its length. In reporting the strike, Mr. Burgess states: "As this is 1,600 feet from the surface and on the Whitewater vein proper, it is likely to mean that none of the upper levels have been driven far enough west to get in the zone, as we have all along suspected."

Similar satisfactory progress is reported on No. 11 level, where there is a continuous showing of ore on a drift that has been run for 150 feet.

A large quantity of grey copper has been struck on this level, indicating the presence of a considerable amount of silver. On No. 13 level, the miners are stopping twenty feet above the level and are producing good ore. An assay recently received of two carloads sent to Trail showed eleven per cent silver, ten per cent lead and twenty per cent zinc. Whitewater maintains a steady place of fifth on the list of ship-pers to the Trail smelter, and during 1926 it paid a dividend of thirty-five per cent on the preferred stock. Its production record has placed it in the forefront of producing mines in the Slocan district.

SESSION IN OTTAWA IS BROUGHT TO END

Parliament of Canada Finishes Work and Formal Closing is Held

Number of Money Appropriations Voted on Last Day

Ottawa, April 15.—Chief Justice Anglin, Deputy Governor-General last night prorogued the first session of Canada's sixteenth Parliament. The end of the session came after ten days of drive with the House sitting morning, afternoon and evening and during the present session well on into the early morning hours of the day following. Actual sitting days of the session numbered only fifty-four.

The session which closed last night was markedly different from the dramatic session of last year, which ended in the resignation of one government, the defeat of another, a general election and the victory of the Liberals at the polls.

NEW HOUSE RULES When once again Parliament meets new House rules will be in force. The all-night sittings and the interminable speeches by the back benchers will be things of the past. In future the House will adjourn automatically at 11 at night. Members with the exception of party leaders will find their eloquence curtailed to forty minutes.

PROLOGUE TO SPEECH Reading the prorogation speech, Chief Justice Anglin said: "Honorable Members of the Senate, Members of the House of Commons: "I desire to express my appreciation of the expedition with which you have discharged your duties in a session marked by much important legislation.

"The revision by the House of Commons of its rules should serve to expedite the transaction of public business at future sessions." The Chief Justice referred to the "important government measures" which had been signed and declared "the increasingly satisfactory showing of the Canadian National Railways' net earnings affords concrete evidence of our expanding trade and commerce."

AID FOR MARITIMES He reviewed the legislation passed noting that further "substantial provision has been made for work on the Hudson Bay route" and spoke of the "favorable consideration given the recommendations of the royal commission appointed to examine and report on conditions in the Maritime Provinces, which, it is confidently expected, will materially assist in furthering the economic prosperity of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, and in advancing the welfare and unity of the whole Dominion."

Chief Justice Anglin said: "It is gratifying to know you have been able to effect further substantial relief from taxation. I thank you for the provision you have made for the public service."

NEW MINISTERS To the members of the Senate, reference was made to the appointment of the "Minister Plenipotentiary to the United States" and of the appointment of a "Minister Plenipotentiary to Canada by the United States."

"This exchange of representatives will undoubtedly help to maintain and develop the existing good relations between the two countries," he stated.

Concluding, the Chief Justice said: "The prosperity which Canada so happily enjoys at the present time, gives every indication of continuing in increasing measure. For this and many other blessings upon our land I join with you in heartfelt thanks to Divine Providence."

FUNDS FOR LEGATION

In its last vote of the session the House last night divided on the appropriation of $500,000 for the Washington Legation. The sum was approved amid cheers welcoming the end of the session. Immediately before that an amendment moved for the second time by Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Conservative House leader, that the amount be cut to $250,000, had been defeated, 59 to 48.

SUM FOR MEIGHEN

The House approved an item of $44.50 as indemnity for Right Hon. Arthur Meighen while Leader of the Opposition from September 26 to October 11 last.

A vote of $1,600,000 to provide for grants to Maritime Provinces was adopted. Nova Scotia will receive $375,000; New Brunswick $600,000, and Prince Edward Island $125,000.

Estimates of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, totalling $7,150,500 were passed. An estimate of $9,319 to provide for payment of an annuity at the rate of $5,646 to R. R. Farrow, former Deputy Minister of Customs, was passed.

NEW ELECTION OFFICER

Earlier in the day the House passed a motion for the appointment of Jules Castonguay to the post of Chief Electoral Officer. In succession to Colonel O. M. Biggar, resigned. The motion was made by Premier King and seconded by Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Conservative, House leader.

Marseilles, France, April 15.—Captain St. Roman, a pilot who is planning a flight to Buenos Ayres, again postponed his departure last night. A new propeller has been ordered for the plane which he will use.

HOW WE ARE GROWING

SOME STRIKING FIGURES WERE given recently to the Hamilton branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association by Hon. James Malcolm, Minister of Trade and Commerce in the King Government, showing the rapid strides which the Dominion had made in an industrial sense and the volume of manufactured goods it now has for export to foreign countries.

Not more than a quarter of a century ago Canada was regarded as little more than an agricultural country. But times have changed considerably since then. In 1901 the industrial output of the Dominion did not exceed $210,000,000; in 1925 it had increased to $1,311,000,000, while the advance made in the export of manufactured products in the same period was 2,729 per cent. Of special importance, too, is the fact that in 1922 we imported into this country $120,000,000 worth more of manufactured and partly-manufactured goods than we exported; but in 1926 our exports of this class exceeded the imports by $24,000,000.

What people in other countries say about us often is more to the point than what we say about ourselves. On this assumption it is worth noting that the National Foreign Trades Council of New York declares without any frills that Canada's progress in manufacturing is due to the increasing efficiency of the Canadian people and to our improved manufacturing methods. Mr. Malcolm's comment on this is that the increase in production and exports would not have been possible without the securing of broader markets.

The United States authority already referred to likewise notes that Canada has led all nations in increase in external trade since 1913, its figures crediting the Dominion with an advance in this regard of eighty-five per cent. We may add to this satisfactory showing the comforting knowledge that our national wealth per capita has grown from $1,100 in 1913 to $2,525 in 1926—a record unequalled by any other nation in history.

Much benefit obviously will accrue to Canada as a result of the King Government's policy of negotiating favorable trading arrangements with other parts of the British Empire and foreign countries. This plan rests upon the sound economic basis that our manufacturing production must be what we can export to foreign countries in addition to what we require for our own consumption. It is indeed a very necessary policy if we are to look towards continued expansion. Every year production increases; more people are constantly coming. More markets must be found for the product of their labors.

The Minister of Trade and Commerce already has shown his appreciation of the fact that the important duty of his branch of the public services of Canada is to help Canadian producers to get their wares into the markets of the world. They are doing well already, and as our products and our resources become better known, Canada will thrive and prosper proportionately.

A SIGNIFICANT PROPHECY

NOT OFTEN DOES SUCH A WELL-known publicist as Mr. J. L. Garvin, editor of The London Observer, go in for political prophecy. But he has departed from his custom and, although a Conservative, he sees the end of the Baldwin Government as a result of its Trades Union Bill. He contends that this measure is a challenge to Liberalism and Labor and argues in part as follows:

Third sessions are apt to be the death warrant to powerful governments, no matter how long an interval elapses before the execution of sentence at the polls. This session, it seems likely, will repeat the old truth. By an artificial situation, the members of the House of Commons allow themselves to be blinded to the totally different situation in the country. At this rate the overwhelming confidence that the Government can secure a second term at the next general election will soon prove a fool's paradise, as it is as plain as houses that at least sixty per cent. of the country will be against it. When you have an adverse majority of that magnitude, reliance on splitting votes in 500 three-cornered contests will be in vain. The whole political outlook has been transformed by the events of the past week.

Mr. Garvin is in a position to detect the beat of the political pulse in Great Britain. When he made his prophecy, moreover, he also no doubt was thinking of the three deficit budgets which Mr. Churchill has produced since the Government took office. Nor has the fact that there will be at least 500 Liberal candidates at the next election escaped him.

CANADA'S MAPLE PRODUCTS INDUSTRY

THE ADVENT OF ANOTHER SUGAR-ing season draws fresh attention to the fact that in maple products Canada possesses an industry which is but inadequately appreciated and of which a great deal more might be made. At the same time it is gratifying to find evidence of a somewhat greater attention to the possibilities of the industry, though interest in such development would not appear to be sufficiently keen or general. The area in Canada upon which the sugar maple grows is distinctly limited, giving inhabitants of those sections a manner of monopoly, the importance of which is but imperfectly realized. At the same time a taste for these products has been adventitiously developed in certain parts of Europe with markets whose adequate development is obviated by limited production. It can safely be said that there is a demand at the present time for much more maple sugar and syrup than is being produced, and the possibilities of production development have nothing like been reached.

One of the oldest of Canadian industries, the production of maple products has been one to receive least attention until quite recent years. From 1850 to 1890 the production of both sugar and syrup increased year by year. From 1851 to 1861 the average was about 13,500,000 pounds; from 1861 to 1871, 17,500,000 pounds; from 1871 to 1881, 19,000,000 pounds; and from 1881 to 1891, 22,500,000 pounds. During the next decade the yearly average fell to some 21,200,000 pounds, and later to 20,000,000 pounds. Following this decline, which seems to have been largely due to a lack of commercial interest, a decided resumption of activity was evidenced due to Government introduction of more progressive methods and appliances of manufacture. In terms of sugar the production of the past three years has been respectively 29,092,375 pounds; 27,217,192 pounds; and 24,603,003 pounds.

Considering the normal trend of prices the export trade in maple products may be considered as great to-day as it has ever been. While the greater volume of shipments go to the United States and United Kingdom, an analysis of trade during the past few years shows that South Africa, Newfoundland, Australia, New Zealand, Austria, Cuba, Denmark, France, Germany, Japan, Sweden, West Indies, Belgium, Netherlands and Russia have been purchasers of Canadian maple products. Necessarily the amounts taken have in the main been almost insignificant, but the wide distribution of markets illustrates the possibilities of the development of the export trade.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

OUR SURPLUS OF LAWS

From The Toronto Star

One hundred and seventy-four bills were enacted at the session of the Ontario legislature which closed a few days ago. It was this sort of thing that caused The Chicago Tribune to break out in verse:

Did Eden's one and only ban
Give Eve or Adam pause?
Then why to save unruly man—
Propose ten thousand laws?

THE UMP TALKS BACK

From The New York World

Since the year 1868, when the first professional baseball club was organized in this country, the umpire has borne the whips and scorns of time, the opprobrium of the crowd, the proud man's contumely, and in all that time he has never had the chance to hit back, never had the sweet satisfaction of seeing a pop bottle bounce off any head but his own.

But down at Roanoke, Va., the other day an umpire broke the long record of impotence. This was Mr. J. Ira Davis, who was umpiring a game in the Virginia State League. For several innings he stood the taunts of the crowd, which took vociferous exception to everything he did, from the way he called strikes and balls to the way he called those plays on the bases. And then the worm turned. While the sides were changing at the end of an inning he took a seat in the bleachers and from there he addressed the astonished crowd thus: "You fellows can see the plate so much better out here than I could from where I stood, I thought I'd do a little umpiring out here."

All honor to J. Ira Davis of the Virginia State League. May he long be remembered and may other umpires follow his example.

Queer Quirks of Nature

By ARTHUR N. PACK

Although many people are wary of insects, believing that they all bite or sting, in reality a very small proportion are capable of inflicting any wound; and of those wounds nearly all are accidental or used as weapons of defence.

One interesting type of insect, the bombardier beetle, has an original method of defence; it uses a sort of gas bomb. When pursued it discharges, with a sound of a miniature popgun, an acid fluid which changes into a bluish smoke and covers the beetle's line of retreat.

Another species is known as the skunk of the insect world because it carries a supply of pungent, bad-smelling fluid which it can squirt out at an enemy if attacked.

To the stinging group belong the bees, wasps, yellow jackets, hornets and others of the same order. Of these only the females possess the stinging organ which are modified egg-laying apparatus. A sharp-pointed stilet inflicts the wound, and an acid secretion is forced into it. Some females and workers among the ants possess similar stinging organs.

One would hardly believe that a creature as lovely as a moth or butterfly would possess or need defensive apparatus, but in their earlier stage as caterpillars some have most effective weapons. Of all the insects, however, the ones most dangerous are those least feared—the common house fly, carrying germs from place to place; the mosquitoes, lice, fleas, bedbugs, etc. It is of these one should truly and justly be afraid.

Do You Mean What You Say?

"PURBLIND"

"PURBLIND"

Although the dictionaries give "dim sighted" and "near sighted" as the meaning of "purblind" it is more frequently used to refer to a short sightedness which has nothing to do with the use of the eyes, but which is due to inactivity of the little grey cells of the brain. "Purblindness" in everyday speech means lack of vision or foresight, an inability to see the future effect of one's present actions. Originally "purblind" was not "partially blind," but "pure blind" or "totally blind" and referred to physical rather than mental vision.

Canadian Questions and Answers

NATURAL GAS

Q.—What is the production of natural gas in Canada?
A.—The value of the natural gas produced in Canada in 1925 was the largest total ever reached, amounting to $5,535,000. Alberta forged ahead of Ontario as the largest provincial producer in quantity. Several productive wells came forward in New Brunswick. The chief single well producer of west was Royalite No. 4 in the Turner Valley of Alberta. Many regard this industry as only in its infancy.

VICTORIA MUSICAL FESTIVAL

To the Editor.—Notwithstanding the kindness of the press of Victoria in publishing matters pertaining to the approaching musical festival in this city, including editorials, special articles, and interesting letters from correspondents, I have been astonished to find in many quarters a complete want of knowledge that such an event was to take place in Victoria next week. This utter lack of knowledge is not confined to a few, but it is quite general. I have tested the matter by personally questioning people in various lines of life. I am glad to say, however, that people interested in music and elocution are greatly interested, as evidenced by the large number of entries for the various competitions.

The committee of the Festival Association feel that while it is good to have those interested in music and elocution taking an active part, such is only part of their object, and it is very desirable that all sections of the community should be interested in this movement for the encouragement and improvement of amateur artists in the allied arts.

I would, therefore, ask the favor of your columns to present to the people of the City of Victoria and adjoining municipalities, as well as those residing on Vancouver Island generally, a short review of the movement and its organization, with as much information about the coming festival as can be given briefly.

In the late summer of last year, a few enthusiastic lovers of music and the allied arts held a meeting to consider the advisability of holding a musical festival competition in Victoria. The meeting was held at the home of Mr. J. G. Brown, and it was decided that this city should not be lagging behind in this matter, when towns of the size of Kelowna in the interior could arrange and conduct one so successfully, and they were strengthened in this view, when it was remembered that a very large proportion of the winners of the musical festival held at Vancouver last year, were from Victoria.

A public meeting was called to consider the matter, and was attended by quite a number of people, who were more interested in music and elocution. This meeting decided to organize a musical festival association, elected provisional officers, and at a later meeting adopted a constitution and elected permanent officers and an executive committee.

This executive committee has been hard at work ever since. A syllabus was prepared, comprising some forty competitions under—

1. Large church choirs and choral societies, forty-one to sixty voices;
2. Intermediate church choirs, twenty-five to forty voices;
3. Small church choirs, twenty-four voices or less;
4. Male voice choirs, no limit to number of voices;
5. Ladies choirs, no limit to number of voices;
6. Public school choirs, no limit to number of voices;
7. Public school choirs, seniors, Grades 6, 7 and 8;
8. Sunday school choirs;

10. Girls' choirs, other than public schools;

Our solicitor advises us that all gasoline service pumps already installed on the highways in Esquimalt were authorized by a previous Council without first obtaining his advice on the matter. The existing pumps, I am informed, were erected illegally and the municipality is liable for damages, caused by collision, fire, etc., through permitting such pumps to be installed on the public highways, and as this particular pump is in such close proximity to a wooden building as to, at once, become a fire menace, I am strenuously opposed to the renewal of existing permits, or to granting any more new permits in this respect.

It is my duty to be far to every one, and to interpret the law without partiality.

How She Got Rid of Rheumatism

Knowing from terrible experience the suffering caused by rheumatism, Mrs. J. E. Hurst, who lives at 944 Davis Avenue, Bloomington, Ill., is so thankful at having healed herself that out of pure gratitude she is anxious to tell all other sufferers just how to get rid of their torture by a simple way at home.

Mrs. Hurst has nothing to sell, but she will gladly send you this valuable information entirely free. Write her at once before you forget.

work, his reputation also is of a high order and he is well known as a bandmaster and orchestral conductor.

Miss Cornish of the Cornish School of Elocution and the Dramatic Art, Seattle, has been allotted to adjudicate the elocutionary events. Miss Cornish is known the length of the United States, and brings to her work, a very large and wide experience.

The committee of the Musical Festival Association have from the very beginning considered that it was a community enterprise, and looked upon themselves as trustees. Nobody in the committee receives any remuneration for their services, it is a work of love.

During the days of the competition, something like seventy-five to 100 helpers will be employed, whose services will also be given free.

The festival being a community enterprise, the committee determined to bring its sessions within the reach of every man, woman and child in Victoria and adjoining districts, and have made the admission fee very low. The admission for the day sessions will be 25c and 15c for children. Evening sessions will be 50c, for adults and 25c for children.

The committee has been particularly fortunate in having His Worship Mayor Pandey, give a short address at the evening of Thursday, April 21. Dr. Willis, Superintendent of Education on Friday, April 22, both at First United Church, while His Honor, the Lieutenant-Governor will say a few words at the Arena on Saturday evening, April 23.

The B. C. Electric Railway Company will have a special service of cars on Saturday evening, to handle the immense throng of citizens, whom they confidently expect will fill the buildings.

Programmes of the complete list of events will be on sale at 10c each, these will give the names of the competitors, the time and place of competition.

There are 437 entries for the forty-two events, and over 2,000 competitors, showing the enthusiasm of the residents of Victoria and adjoining districts for this festival. The committee in charge, therefore, appeals to the general public to do their part in aiding the enterprise by their presence at one or more of the sessions, morning and evening, and thus make the festival not only a grand success from a music and elocution standpoint, but from a financial one as well.

J. G. BROWN,
President, Victoria Musical Festival Association.

THE REEVE'S ATTITUDE

To the Editor: I would appreciate your kindness in granting me a little space in your valued paper to explain my position in the discussion, arising in the Esquimalt Council Chamber, last Monday evening, on an application from Mrs. Cammerford for a permit to sell gasoline from a service pump already installed on the public highway on Esquimalt Road.

I have been erroneously asserted that I personally cast the deciding vote, quashing the movement, but, I would like to draw your attention to the fact that I have no authority to cast a deciding vote in the event of votes of all members of the Council present, including myself, being equally for or against a question.

Our solicitor advises us that all gasoline service pumps already installed on the highways in Esquimalt were authorized by a previous Council without first obtaining his advice on the matter. The existing pumps, I am informed, were erected illegally and the municipality is liable for damages, caused by collision, fire, etc., through permitting such pumps to be installed on the public highways, and as this particular pump is in such close proximity to a wooden building as to, at once, become a fire menace, I am strenuously opposed to the renewal of existing permits, or to granting any more new permits in this respect.

It is my duty to be far to every one, and to interpret the law without partiality.

VARIETY OFFERING
ONE OF SEASON'S MOST THRILLING PICTURES

Drama that rises to a roaring climax, like the liquid thunder of some gigantic tidal wave in the South Sea Islands where the story takes place. Romance as soft, as colorful, as tender as the pink coral reefs that enclose the central great lagoon; a spectacular tale of two young theological students, studying for the ministry, and how one of them finally follows that lure of the sea which sings irresistibly in his blood; splendid acting and astute direction make of "Breed of the Sea" one of the most gripping pictures of the season.

WALLACE BEERY IS
"CASEY AT THE BAT"

He's smelled the powder of enemy fire in the front line trenches, he's watched the ominous white streak of a torpedo from the deck of a marked transport, and now he's adventuring in America's best known game, baseball. After gathering laughs as a doughboy and a gob, Wallace Beery plays in Victoria at the Dominion Theatre as "Casey" in Paramount's new roaring farce, "Casey at the Bat."

The shrieks which greeted this picture at its initial showings have already permeated our city. Beery is said to be even funnier than he was in his two preceding films as the only baseball player who can truly be placed alongside of Babe Ruth when commenting on baseball's most colorful figures.

ANNA Q. NILSSON AND
LEWIS STONE STARRER
IN "MIDNIGHT LOVERS"

John Francis Dillon, who directed Colleen Moore's great motion picture success, "Morning Youth," and who has been responsible for many other film triumphs, handled the megaphone over "Midnight Lovers," the first National picture which features Lewis Stone and Anna Q. Nilsson, at the Playhouse Theatre this week.

The production is Carey Wilson's screen adaptation of J. E. Harold Terry's successful play, "Collusion." Wilson also acted in the capacity of editorial director on the picture, which was produced under the production management of John McCormick.

LIMEHOUSE SCENES
COLUMBIA PICTURE

Limehouse, which gave the public that popular song, "Limehouse Blues," and brought success and fame to Thomas Burke for his "Limehouse Nights," gave Rin-Tin-Tin an exciting and thrilling locale for his latest Warner Bros. production, "While London Sleeps," which opened yesterday at the Columbia Theatre, takes Rinty from the mountain wilds and the snow country, into the crooked, shadowy streets of London's underworld where crime and daring keep Scotland Yard harassed and busy.

"While London Sleeps," written and directed by Walter Morosco, is the melodramatic story of a master-criminal, his dog, his best-like assistant, the girl they kidnap, and the man whom she loves.

LOVE BATTLE BETWEEN
BLONDE AND BRUNETTE
SHOWING AT CAPITOL

Can a brunette win a man from a blonde? That's the question solved by "Blonde or Brunette," a Paramount picture starring Adolphe Menjou now playing at the Capitol Theatre. It depicts a battle between two clever women for the love of the same man. Three marriages and two divorces are necessary before the issue is finally settled.

Greta Nissen, the Norwegian beauty who played "Lost a Wife" and "The King on Main Street" with Mr. Menjou, is the blonde; Ariette Marchal, a French actress last seen as Jack Holt's leading woman in "Porpora River," the brunette.

The stage attraction at the Capitol Theatre this week introduces the famous ladies' musical aggregation, "The Hollywood Fadettes," under the leadership of Marie Hursay. The famous orchestra plays both classics and popular jazz compositions equally well, and as being acclaimed nightly by capacity houses. In fact this act has been voted as being worth the admission price alone.

DISMISSED TEACHER CAUSES A SCENE

Superior, Wis., April 15.—Shouts of disapproval, directed at members of the board of education by angry spectators, brought to a close a special meeting of the board called for a hearing on the charges that brought dismissal of Miss Lulu Dickinson, veteran English instructor.

Miss Dickinson, for twenty-three years a teacher at Central High School and the centre of controversy which resulted in a strike of more than 1,000 students, became hysterical and fainted as the meeting ended.

The school board refused to recede from its position, declined to hear witnesses and told the gathered citizens their ousting attempt aimed at the Rev. A. T. Ekblad, president of the board, and Paul R. Spencer, superintendent of schools, belonged in the courts.

Fourteen overt acts of unprofessional conduct were charged against Miss Dickinson. She denied the allegations. The counts included among other things that Miss Dickinson criticized intelligence tests; opposed the superintendent's policy about failure; complained because of lack of textbooks; deplored extravagances in expenditures; declared the director of research "could be very well dispensed with"; and coached classes on questions to be asked them.

George C. Cooper, a member of a committee of twenty-one, appointed by citizens working in Miss Dickinson's behalf, appealed to the board, asking a fair hearing in the case.

"Are you going to crucify Miss Dickinson at a star chamber session?" he demanded.

After leaving the meeting, Miss Dickinson collapsed. Frank Hayes, a member of the committee of twenty-one, told the board and assembly.

Mr. Ekblad later issued a statement saying that if Miss Dickinson wished to meet with the board and discuss her case she might.

The board had not the power of a court for it cannot compel witnesses to attend or put witnesses under oath, his statement said.

Any hearing which is given must necessarily be informed and without participation of Miss Dickinson, he said. There is nothing, he stated, that prevents the private investigation of any individual or group of charges made against Miss Dickinson.

The special meeting was granted after a month of agitation over Miss Dickinson's dismissal.

World's Series Not Attractive Enough, So Patrick Returns

Victoria Looked Better to Lester so He Ignored Battles For Stanley Cup

Admits He Has Three Offers From N.H.L. Clubs For Next Season; Not Worried

"Victoria held more interest for me than the world's series, once the Rangers were counted out of it and that's why I'm back here," said Lester Patrick, manager of the New York Rangers, on his return yesterday afternoon from the "big town."

"I saw so much hockey this winter that I am glad to get away from it and see the old Pacific slopes once more," commented Lester. "I was hopeful of getting into the world's series, but when I realized that the Rangers came from nowhere to lead the American Section all season I think our showing was pretty good for beginners. As soon as we were counted out I straightened up things as fast as I could and headed for home, for after all there is no place to that Victoria as a place to reside in."

Lester said he had no alibi to offer for the defeat suffered by the New York Rangers in the playoffs with Boston. "Patrick handed out to his defense men, Ching Johnson and Taffy Abel, when the Rangers were leading one goal to nothing did the damage, but Lester refused to use the referees as an excuse for the defeat. He is one man who believes that no referee is out to deliberately handicap a team and that over a full season the 'breaks' will even up."

DIFFERENT VIEWPOINT

Regarding the Ottawa incident when the Boston Bruins attacked Referee Lafflamme, Lester expressed regret. Lafflamme referred the Boston-Rangers series and in the case of Sprague Cleghorn, who escaped with a minor penalty when he should have been assessed a major for his attack on Ching Johnson, Boston gained a break. Referees cannot please both sides all the time in crucial games as each team looks at an incident from a different viewpoint, remarked Lester.

"What about next winter?" Lester was asked. "Ah, that's a different canary," he said. "I think I would like to go to have a lovely summer. I expected to get back into the golf game. I was not able to cut down my handicap in New York as they don't golf there when the hockey season is on."

Lester admitted that three clubs were kicking for his services next season and that, so far, he had not signed with the New York Rangers although they have made him an attractive offer.

Lester's success with the Rangers has established him as the outstanding hockey general in hockey. He took a team that the officials of the Rangers Club hoped would not end in the cellar, and put them in front and kept them there till the playoffs, despite injuries to two of his star defense men, Johnson and Stan Brown. The fact that the Rangers lead the league and have a big effect on the gate receipts at Madison Square Garden and the club outdrew their rivals, the Americans by large figures.

Lester will be in no hurry to sign up his next contract. His services are in great demand and he will pick out the most attractive offer and then sign on the dotted line. Lester enjoyed his winter in New York, despite the amount of traveling that had to be done and the hard coaching that he had to put in on some of the players.

HARMONY IN CLUB
"But there was harmony in our club," said Lester, "and that meant a lot. The boys had a good fighting spirit and our six regulars were as good as any club in the league. Bill Cook was a positive sensation while Bunny Cook was one hundred per cent better than last year. Frank Boucher was spectacular and stood in centre ice and hooked checked teams to death. Johnson is the nearest approach to the late Hod Stuart whom I consider probably the greatest defense man of all time, that I have ever seen. He is a splendid type. Chabot turned in a fine season in goal. It was his first year in professional company."

The working of Madison Square Garden was a revelation to Lester who watched the staff convert the place from an ice rink one day into a circus ring the next.

"Why one night we would play hockey. The next day the ice would be gone and there would be six inches of tan bark in for a rodeo or horse show and the next night they'd have ice in again. Those boys sure know their stuff, no fooling."

Lester has been a great advertising agent for Victoria. In his numerous write-ups and newspaper columns of Lester, the sixteen daily newspapers of New York carried the name of Victoria many times in prominent places and other towns in the circuit helped put the Capital before the eyes of their people.

MRS. YOUNG RECONCILED
Mrs. Monica, Cal., April 14.—A reconciliation between Mrs. Jane Young, mother of George Young, youthful winner of a $25,000 prize as first to swim the Channel between Santa Catalina Island and the Mainland, and Miss Bella Young, his aunt, has been effected.

This was admitted by both women at their homes here to-day. Miss Young aligned herself with Bill Hastings, the swimmer's erstwhile pal, in the quarrel over Young's management. With Hastings' party, she returned to California a few days ago and rented a house next door to that occupied by Mrs. Young.

Tunney May Fight Next in Chicago

Chicago, April 12.—Chicago may see a heavyweight title bout in the late summer or early autumn, Billy Gibson, manager of Gene Tunney, is reported to be negotiating with promoter Jim Mulvihill, said that the heavyweight champion now is a free agent by action of the New York Boxing Commission in voiding all Tunney contracts with New York promoters, including Tex Rickard. As a result, Gibson said, Tunney is ready to sign to make his next ring appearance in Chicago.

Victoria College Meet Revelstoke To-morrow Night

Will Decide Holders of Provincial Intermediate "A" Title at "Y"

Tickets went on sale yesterday morning for the Revelstoke-Victoria College game here to-morrow night at the "Y.M.C.A." for the final in the Intermediate "A" Men's title of the Province.

Revelstoke has one of the finest basketball squads yet developed in the Province, having met and defeated the Kamloops Senior "A" Men on their own floor. There is no question that, while the local fans will be pulling for a victory for Victoria, that each and every one attending will be well repaid for some very fast spectacular play and teamwork will be displayed.

The Victoria College have in past performance shown the local fans that they do not have to take a back seat with anyone when it comes to playing basketball. Every man on the team does justice to his position. They are all exceptionally fast, pass check, dribble and shoot effectively. The work of Tervo and Knott on the forward line Saturday, when they defeated the crack Varsity team from Vancouver, was highly commendable, their shooting being without doubt the best seen in this town for a considerable period in intermediate circles.

A good preliminary ladies' game will probably be arranged and a bumper crowd is anticipated.

Chicago, April 15.—One of the largest field races ever seen in the city was in prospect for the lucky Derby, four weeks from to-morrow, said Colonel Matt J. Winn, general manager of Churchill Downs, in his arrival here Saturday to prepare for the opening of the Illinois Racing season, April 21.

"This looks like the most interesting Derby we have ever staged," said Colonel Winn, "and I am sure the names of forty or fifty owners who have told me they think their candidates will win. Mild weather has made it possible for the Derby colts and fillies to be more advanced in their training than in most years. It would be hazardous to try and guess the possible number of starters but it is a big field, probably one of the largest that ever started in a Derby."

Colonel Winn and his associates of the new Illinois Turf Association will start today in the new season of the inaugural meeting of the tracks, which opens next Thursday at Aurora. Already there are more than 1,100 horses quartered there.

Sweetser Reduces Tournament Plans

Asheville, N.C., April 15.—Jesse Sweetser of New York announced today he would not defend the British amateur golf championship he won last year. He, however, plans to enter the United States national amateur tournament.

Sweetser who has been here eight months because of his health, plans to return to New York Monday.

"I came near ruining my health in England last year," he said. "It was worth it to win the British amateur, but I can not take the risk of going overseas again. In fact, as soon as the national amateur this summer, I hardly believe I will participate in another tournament this year."

Sweetser won the United States national amateur championship in 1922, and was runner-up in 1923.

Pinchard, N.C., April 15.—William T. Hilden II, of Philadelphia, and George Lott Jr. of Chicago will battle for the North and South tennis championship title to-day by virtue of their victories yesterday in the semi-finals. Hilden defeated Herbert Bowman, New York, 6 to 2, 6 to 1, 6 to 2, and Lott won from Francis T. Hunter, New Rochelle, 6 to 1, 6 to 0, 6 to 6.

Hunting Cup To Return On Wings Of Locals' Win

Victoria Women Defeat Vancouver in Annual Team-match by Decisive Score

One more cup has returned to Capital to renew old associations. Yesterday afternoon at the Colwood Golf Club the local women's team scored a triumph over the Vancouver women and regained the Hunting Cup, emblematic of the team championship. The score was 53 points to 31 in Victoria's favor.

Victoria's two lead-off women fell by the wayside, Mrs. Philbrick being defeated by Mrs. Harold Hutchings after a remarkable match, while Mrs. Sweeney, formerly of Victoria, accounted for Miss Sayward. Mrs. Hutchings won by 3 and 2 and her score for the sixteen holes was 71, which is wonderful going. She went out in 40. Mrs. Philbrick played a great game as well and reached the turn in one stroke more than her opponents. Both sank their first putts at the fourth for "two."

Miss Dank was the only other visitor who managed to win her match, while Mrs. Gellately succeeded in halving her match with Mrs. Allen, formerly of Winnipeg but now of Victoria. All the other visitors were beaten by the locals.

The scores were:

S.S. Championships Will Be At Stake On Saturday Night

First United Midgets and Victoria Capitals Will Meet Vancouver Champs

First United "Midgets" will be called upon Saturday night to endeavor to bring the Norman G. Mull Silver cup to the Capital. The "Midgets" are winners of the local Junior Boys League and will meet Vancouver winners for the B.C.S.S. League championship at the High School gymnasium.

The "Midgets" are a fast traveling team and are eager to capture the honors. They made a fine showing in the local Junior Boys League going through the season without losing a single game. Vancouver are always strong in the Junior Boys division and are sure to have a fine team to represent them on Saturday.

EXPECT GOOD GAMES
In the Intermediate Boys division the Victoria "Capitals" led the way all season with a fine record of wins. They will have a chance to capture the handsome David Spencer trophy to-morrow night and can be depended upon to put up a fine game. Tommy Forbes, Albert Acres, and several other well-known Intermediates are with the "Capitals."

The "Capitals" will represent Vancouver against the "B.C. open championship and will be over 100 to try to add another trophy to their collection. This is one of the finest Intermediate Boys teams ever organized in the Terminal City and their tussle with the speedy "Capitals" should be a treat to watch.

The High School gymnasium has been secured for these two games and both should be fast and exciting. Seats are not reserved, as there is ample accommodation for a good crowd.

London, April 15.—Neath defeated Skewen by a score of 6 to 3 in a Rugby union match at Skewen yesterday.

You'd Be SURPRISED!

Winning twenty ball games is considered quite a feat these days. Major league managers are willing to pay a fancy bonus to any pitcher capable of turning the trick.

This fact makes me marvel at the record Cy Young made during his more than twenty years as a star twirler in both the American and National Leagues.

The lively ball and the short fences have made the task of pitching more difficult, yet when Cy Young was the big noise in the majors, a pitcher who couldn't win at least twenty games wasn't rated a real star.

Young during five years of his career managed to win thirty or more ball games, to exact 31, 32, 34, 35 and 36. No other major league pitcher in the last twenty-five years has ever won thirty games more than three times. Only two have done that—Grover Alexander and Christy Mathewson.

For thirteen successive years, from 1892 to 1905, Cy Young turned in the unheard of performance of winning twenty or more games each year. During sixteen years of his career he registered anywhere from twenty to thirty-six victories a season.

On these occasions Cy Young let down the opposition without a hit, once in 1897, again in 1904 and lastly in 1908. The 1904 feat was made against the Philadelphia Athletics. In this game not a player reached first base.

Secrets of 16 Years Successful Pitching

Of all the batters I have faced, and I can't remember offhand just how many players have been before me, Edd Roush and Ross Young are the trickiest. I won't say they are the hardest hitters, but they are the trickiest and smartest.

Speaking for myself, I am the one who is fiddling around when Eddie Roush and Young get to the plate. I say to myself—what the devil are they going to do now?

Roush and Young can bluff a bunt; they can cleverly drag the ball down the first base line; they can shift their stance at the plate while the ball is sailing through the air and then can take a good, healthy swat at the ball.

Such style-batters will worry any pitcher.

The first thing I do when my batter is set is to watch his feet. When he starts digging his feet deep into the ground he is getting a toe-hold. He is ready to bust one for fair. He gets a slow curve.

Roush and Young do not set themselves at any time. They scrape and jockey around, balance on their toes, shift the feet and keep the pitcher up in the air.

HAS THEM GUESSING
The pitcher doesn't know whether it is a bunt or a full swing. What's the result? The pitcher is trying to do the guessing.

Take batters like Rog Hornsby, Heltis Zimmermann, Gavy Cravath, Emil Meusel, George Kelly who have one spot at the plate and only one. They are waiting for one to come over, then put all of their power behind the swing.

Such fellows will hit them fair. When they do, the pitcher isn't worried. But Roush and Young are the ones who make a pitcher do a full day's work each time they strut to the plate.

The proper mental attitude is everything in pitching. I always carry the thought that it is more difficult for the batter to get the ball safe than to be retired. He is playing a lone hand against nine men. I face a majority of batmen with that thought and have been very successful.

Batters of the Roush and Young type—Ty Cobb of the American League has a similar style—test the pitcher to the limit. I am frank to admit I always feel at bit more comfortable when either of the first two named are out of the way.

The batsman who mixes 'em up is a much tougher customer than the slugging type, best exemplified by Babe Ruth.

Baseball statisticians and others who try to divide the parts of the game into percentage points say pitching is eighty per cent of baseball. I disagree with this basis.

I don't know just how valuable pitching is, but I will say without assistance from the other players, even the pitcher is lost.

Infielders, outfielders and the catcher can work hand-in-hand with the pitcher. How many outfielders fail to play properly for certain batters? It is the same with infielders.

Swatfest Ends When Darkness Descends On Yankees Stadium

Athletics and Yanks Hit Till Shades of Night Silence Their Efforts

Giants Halted by Phillies, While Boston Braves Defeat Brooklyn Dodgers

New York, April 15.—The early darkness of April descended over the Yankee Stadium last night and the Yankees-Athletics swatfest was finished with the score tied 2 to 2. The teams battled three hours and ten innings. Eight pitchers were bombarded for twenty-six hits, the Yanks coming from behind three times to tie it up with furious batting rallies.

At Washington, Hollis Thurston, pitching his first American League game for Washington, held Boston to four hits and the Senators took the second game of the series, 5 to 2. Speaker went hitless.

Cleveland, playing at home, nosed out the Chicago White Sox, 3 to 2, when Sherrod Smith, going to the relief of Karr, retired three in a row in the ninth.

The Detroit-St. Louis game was postponed because of rain.

New York, April 15.—Philadelphia, Boston and Pittsburgh were the winners of the three National League games played yesterday. St. Louis could not play at Chicago because it was too cold.

Jack Scofield, former Giant, brought down his old teammates at Philadelphia by effective pitching. The score of 9 to 6 failed to do his twirling justice for his support was ragged at times. The Phillies pelted Burleigh, Grimes, Cheever, Greenfield and Bentley for sixteen hits.

VANCE OUTPITCHED
Dizzy Vance, darling of the Brooklyn fans, was outpitched by Edwards and the Braves carried the third game of the series at Boston, 7 to 3. Edwards allowed only six hits. Zach Taylor turned in a scintillating circuit smash. Partridge hit a homer for the Robins.

At Cincinnati, the Pittsburgh Pirates handed the Reds of that town their second straight defeat. It was 6 to 2. Lee Meadows was in perfect form, allowing eight hits and keeping them wide apart.

COAST LEAGUE
Portland, April 15.—The Beavers again defeated the Hollywood Stars, yesterday's game ending with a 4 to 1 score. Tomlin, the "snake charmer" from Oklahoma, held the Stars to four scattered hits. Hollywood scored the lone run when Sheehan drove out a sharp single in the ninth inning with two out and Gooch on third.

San Francisco, April 15.—The Seals made in three straight over the Sacramento Senators, by trouncing the league leaders yesterday, 3 to 1. Both Rachac and Moss pitched a bang-up ball, the latter whiffing five batters. An error in the fourth and again in the fifth, coupled with timely hitting, gave the Seals their counters.

Los Angeles, April 15.—A home over the left field wall in the eleventh inning gave Oakland a 9 to 8 victory over Los Angeles yesterday. In the tenth Los Angeles had the bases filled with two out, but the Oaks got out of the hole when Hood was out trying to steal home. Boal clouted out the winning home-run for Oakland, while Brazil and Coveney each made circuit hits, the former with one man on.

Seattle, April 15.—Ninth-inning rallies featured the third game of the Seattle-Missions series here yesterday, which was finally won by the Indians, 2 to 1.

After being held scoreless for seventeen innings, including yesterday's game, the Bells counted a run in their half of the ninth to tie the score one all. The Indians came back in the last part of the ninth with a double and a single, by Eldred and

Mrs. Crowe First Woman to Score a "One" at Colwood

There is going to be a big pink tea at the Colwood Golf Club one of these fine Spring afternoons, if Dame Gossip is not in error.

The hostess will be Mrs. Helen Crowe, and the cause of the party was the success of the hostess in making a hole-in-one at Colwood yesterday afternoon. "Oners" are getting kind of common these days among men, but among women they are still the great ambition. To make Mrs. Crowe's feat all the more important is the fact that she is the first woman to ever sink her tee anywhere on the Colwood course.

Playing with Miss Anne Michaelis yesterday Mrs. Crowe scored her triumph at the seventh hole, the distance being 153 yards.

Commercial Ball League To Open Season On May 6

Sidney and C.P.R. Will Meet at Royal Athletic Park in Opening Fixture

Commercial League baseball teams will swing into action on May 6 when Sidney, last year's champions, will meet the C.P.R.

At the annual meeting of the league, held last night in the new club quarters of the Tillicum Athletic Club, F. B. Richardson and S. Thomas were returned to the offices of president and secretary, respectively. Harold Fetherston was appointed official umpire for the season.

Four teams will compete in the Commercial League this year, Tillums, Sidney, C.P.R. and Spencers. The schedules will be played in two halves with the winners of each league to meet in a play-off series for the league title. Each team will play the others twice with games on Tuesday and Friday nights.

The next meeting of the league will be held on Monday night, May 8, at 8 o'clock, in the Tillicum Athletic Club, Douglas Street.

Fund For Injured Football Players Will Be Created

Alex Peden Presents Cup For Competition; A. D. Robertson New President of L.I.F.A.

Injured soccer players will be well looked after in future years as the result of a decision reached at the annual meeting of the Lower Island Football Association held last night at the Y.M.C.A.

Considerable discussion took place regarding injuries to players. Alex Peden, the new vice-president of the association, offered to put up a cup to be competed for, the proceeds to go towards the creation of a fund for injured players. This cup will be played for next season.

ROBERTSON IS PRESIDENT
Alex. Robertson, who has been interested in local football for many years, was elected to the office of president of the L.I.F.A., while Alex. Peden, another football enthusiast, was nominated as vice-president. C. S. M. Bradley is the third member on the board, while Arthur Stokes will act as secretary.

Mr. Robertson was also re-elected as the local delegate to the British Columbia Football Association.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the retiring executive by the large gathering of footballers.

RIFLE SHOOTING

The Victoria and District Rifle Shooting Association will hold its first practice of the season to-morrow afternoon at Hea's Range.

Marksmen will meet at the Bank of Nova Scotia, corner of Douglas and Yates Streets, at 11:15 o'clock.

Black Hawks Beat Los Angeles Team

Los Angeles, April 15.—The Chicago Black Hawks chalked up their second victory of their invasion of local ice hockey circles by winning over the Oilers, a Los Angeles sextette, 5-2, here last night. The Chicagoans scored four of their goals within the first two periods.

Bye-bye Undertakers
Edmonton, April 15.—Again displaying championship form, the Edmonton Commercial Grads swamped the St. Louis Peetz Undertakers, challengers for the Seitz international basketball trophy, 23 to 14, here last night, and retained possession of the trophy.

The Grads won the first game, 33 to 13, winning the two-game round, 68 to 27.

Calder Puts Down His Foot Heavily Upon Rough Work

Billy Coutu, Boston Defence Man, Expelled From N.H.L. For His Actions

Smith, Oliver, Hitchman, Herberts and Boucher Fined; Charities Benefit

Montreal, April 15.—Expulsion from the National Hockey League for his part in the fracas that followed Ottawa's defeat of the Boston Bruins in their deciding Stanley Cup game Wednesday was meted out last night to Billy Coutu, Boston defence player, by Frank Calder, president of the league.

Calder also took drastic action in the cases of other players who either took part in the melee that waged between referees Jerry Lafflamme and Billy Bell after the contest, or who were penalized heavily for rough work during certain stages of the game itself.

His star player, aggressive right wing of the Ottawa Senators, was suspended for one calendar month, the suspension to take effect at the opening of next season, for attacking Harry Oliver, Boston right wing, in the last minute of play Wednesday. Fines of $100 each also were levied on both players.

OTHER CASES TO COME UP
The action of President Calder followed a report made to him yesterday by the two referees who were alleged to have been attacked by Ottawa players in their dressing room after the final match. Further investigation of the actions of other players said to have been involved in the general disturbance, will be reported to the board of governors at their next meeting and will be dealt with at that time, Calder said.

Charities in Boston and Ottawa will benefit from the fines levied out to Lionel Hitchman, Boston defence centre, and George Boucher, Ottawa captain. Herberts drew his fine for attempting intimidation of an official, while Hitchman and Boucher were assessed because of match penalties drawn for fighting. Coutu also was fined $100 for violating provision that all financial penalties be taken from the players' share of the receipts of the hockey "world series."

Many Victoria fans will remember Coutu, who has played his last hockey in the N.H.L. He visited here two years ago, with the Canadians and played defence in the world series against Victoria. During the visit he was cut over the ankle and blood poisoning ensued and for a time it was thought that it might prove serious.

Last winter Leo Dandurand sold Coutu to Boston and this put the big fellow back into action with the Bruins. Sprague Cleghorn, and gave Boston four defence men. Eddie Shore and Lionel Hitchman teamed up as the goal-getting defence when Boston was in need of goals, while Cleghorn and Coutu went on the ice when it was necessary to throw out a bluff defence and protect a lead.

Coutu, a heavy hitter, was an outstanding player, but he still has a few good years left in him, and no doubt will catch a place with a team in one of the minor leagues.

DOWN WITH ROUGH WORK
President Calder is evidently out to show the world that referees got to control themselves and that referees must not be interfered with and much less assaulted. The N.H.L. is a big business concern now and cannot afford to tolerate incidents such as those which followed the deciding game of the world's series in Ottawa on Wednesday night.

WITH THE BOWLERS

Seattle, April 15.—Shooting the best double seen in the Northwest in the international Bowlers' Press this season, the crack Seattle team of Roy Bogges and N. Stewart smashed its way to the top of the heap with a brilliant 1,241 score. Bogges and Stewart forged far ahead of their nearest rivals, Keppeler and Hillman of Seattle, who set the pace Wednesday with a 1,187 total. The mark set by the leaders this afternoon is not far short of the total that won last when Goulay and Jones of Vancouver, B.C., took the title with 1,248.

Pete Hedenstrom of Seattle accounted for the first record of the tournament when he shot into the individual leadership of the meet

LAILA

A Tale of the Days of Christ, by John Newport

With all possible work done around the house, the women and servants sat before the door, straining their eyes toward the village. The soldier's bed was so placed that his head extended into the open air.

The afternoon passed. The sky was clear, and they could see the sun, descending toward the distant sea. The lower rim of the golden ball was touching the hills, when word finally came to the anxious group that waited.

CHAPTER XXV

The messenger was one of the servants of Ezra's household. Panting and pale from a run of many miles, he bowed before the soldier, and gave him the message.

Jared had been taken to Tiberias, the new city built by Herod. Omar had been seen in Bethshean, and Aaron, the shepherd, was in search of him there. Antonius's comrades were marching toward the desert. Ezra himself was in pursuit of them.

"And," said the servant, "it is said that Herod himself awaits the coming of Jared, with an executioner, who will put him to the sword."

Maryam leaned against the wall, her face buried in her arms. Her mother rushed from side to side, her eyes dry, her cheeks and lips white. The servants waited, but Antonius impatiently motioned them to be silent.

"My leg!" he growled. "By Jupiter, if my leg were only healed for this one night."

He poured a cup of wine and handed it to Ezra's messenger.

"Omar," he added, "if only Omar could be found!"

The servant drained the cup, and set it down. "The Arabian woman is in Bethshean," he said, casually. "She was seen in the crowd when Jacob the publican was thrust into prison there."

"In Bethshean?" said Antonius, thoughtfully. "Laila is resourceful, and—"

He turned sharply to Maryam.

"Girl," he said, "you are strong and swift of foot."

The girl disclosed her tear-stained face. "What does my lord wish?" she asked.

"Get you a beast to ride upon, and hasten to Bethshean; inquire where Laila resides; tell her what has befallen your father, and bid her take word to Omar." The soldier spoke briskly.

"But there are robbers abroad," she said timidly, "and night is falling, and—"

"So you'd rather let your father die," he finished for her.

The girl threw out her hands. "Oh, no! No! No!"

She spoke to one of her father's servants, and the man ran out the door.

"I forgot myself," she said to Antonius. "I would proudly die to save my father." Her manner became entreating. "You will forgive a poor maiden, my lord, the soldier? I have not been used to danger, and I only faltered for a moment."

He answered dryly: "Do not fear again to-night—or by to-morrow's sunset they will have taken your father's flesh from him, bit by bit, and torn his tongue with hot pincers, and—"

"Don't! Don't!" She covered her ears with her hands, and tears coursed down her cheeks.

It was only a few moments until the servant came back with a donkey that had been tethered in the sheep corral behind Jared's house. Maryam mounted the animal, and with no further word, departed, beating the little beast with a stick to urge him to an unaccustomed speed.

Ezra's servant also went his way. "Such messengers to deal with!" Antonius grumbled, half to himself, as he settled his cushions for another night's vigil. "A whining girl and a servant who shakes and trembles over a ten-mile run—"

He laid his sword carefully down a fold of his coverlet, and concluded, with a short laugh, "and a soldier who can't move one leg."

The road between Jerico and Bethshean wound around a flank of the mountain, and was deep with mud from the winter rains. When Maryam returned to the house where her mother and Antonius waited, the next day was well advanced.

She drew up the donkey before the door.

fun of me if I went to school without a tail. No, I must find it."

"We'll look again," offered Uncle Wiggily, and just then, all of a sudden, the Woggie pig in the parlor began playing.

"Who's that?" asked Um.

"It must be Wumpie, or perhaps Dimple, practising their singing lesson," replied Mr. Longears.

"Dimple and Wumpie went to school," said Gazie.

"Then Boppy is making music for himself," suggested the rabbit.

"Boppy has gone to the school for me," said Um. "Besides, that doesn't sound like Boppy's playing. He strikes several keys at once, as I do. This playing is one key at a time, la, la, la—listen to it."

Indeed it was one key playing, different from that done by Boppy and Um. For the little wooden man and woman, having no hands or feet, could only play the piano by bouncing up from the floor and landing hard on two or three keys at once.

"Til tiptoe in the parlor and see who is playing," offered Uncle Wiggily, as the music continued. But when he opened the door he saw no one at the piano. He thought perhaps it was all a dream, but when he started to leave, the music began once more. Turning quickly, Uncle Wiggily saw Boppy reaching up over the top, from her hiding place back of the piano. And the little rabbit girl tapped the keys one at a time with a short, round stick.

"Why, Baby Bunt! How you surprised me!" cried Uncle Wiggily.

"What are you doing here in Boppy's bungleump?"

"I came over to ask you to come back and live in your bungleump," answered Baby Bunt, popping out from behind the piano. "We are lonely for you. Boppy's door was open, so I went in and started to play the piano with this stick I found on the floor."

"You've been playing on Boppy's piano?"

"I'm not a stick! That's my lost tail!" And so it was. "I remember now," went on the Woggie girl. "I left my tail in the piano room when I was practising my singing lesson before

I went to school. And to think you found it, Baby Bunt!"

"Yes, I found it!" laughed Bunt. "And I surprised you, didn't I, Uncle Wigg?"

"Yes," admitted the rabbit gentleman, "you did surprise me very much by hiding behind the piano and playing on the keys with Gazie's tail. Now run along to school, both of you. And I'll think about coming back to my bungleump, Bunt!"

With that Mr. Longears twinkled his pink nose upside down. And the Woggie girl having put on her white tail, so Jackie Bow Wow wouldn't laugh at her. But maybe Jackie wouldn't have laughed. He was a kind little dog.

So if the broom will sweep the rag doll's roller skates out in the yard for the butterfly to ride on, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's little errand.

penters, now receiving $7.50 per day, are asking $8.50. The increase would compensate them for the half-day they intend to drop from their work. The contractors, it is understood, will stand firm in their attitude that the building industry can not afford to comply with the demands.

Vancouver, April 15.—A "show-down" to decide whether or not the five-day week will be established in the building industry of Greater Vancouver is due on May 1.

Uncle Wiggily and Bunt's Surprise

Copyright, 1927, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

By HOWARD R. GARIS

One morning Um, who, with little wooden Boppy, kept the Woggies from getting too much scrambled in the bungleump, one morning Um called to Gazie.

"Come, my dear, it's time you started for school. All your sisters and brothers have gone. You don't want to be late."

"Oh, but Ma, I can't go to school!" cried Gazie.

"Why not?" asked Um. "Are you ill?"

"No, Ma Um, but I can't find my tail."

"Yes, you would look queer," admitted Um. "But dear me! What happened to your tail?"

"Can't find your tail, child! Why, the very idea! You shouldn't be so careless!"

"I wasn't careless, Ma, but I'm tailless."

The road between Jerico and Bethshean wound around a flank of the mountain, and was deep with mud from the winter rains. When Maryam returned to the house where her mother and Antonius waited, the next day was well advanced.

She drew up the donkey before the door.

Colwood, April 15.—Colwood Women's Institute will hold their annual bulb and Spring flower show on Wednesday, April 20, in the Colwood

Hall. The show will be preceded by a short business meeting at which the decision of the members to award a silver medal to the scholar in Colwood school obtaining the highest number of marks in the entrance examination this year will be ascertained. The medal will be as handsome as it is possible to obtain and will be suitably engraved. The members decided upon this means as a stimulus to the pupils of the local school and an added incentive to do their best in studying for and writing their June entrance examinations.

"YOU'RE NOT THE KING ARE YOU?" LITTLE BOY ASKED AS GOVERNOR PAID VISIT TO MILL BAY SOLARIUM

How the Governor-General and Lady Willingdon came to the Mill Bay Solarium a few days ago and what the tiny inmates of the institution thought of the vice-regal visitors is told in a letter written by one of the kiddies to his mother here. Allowing a little leeway for spelling and punctuation, which are reproduced here as in the original, the little boy's story of Their Excellencies' appreciation of the Solarium is thoroughly accurate. It runs as follows:

"Dear Mama—
"The Governor-General came to see us and his wife, it rained and we stayed in and not out where we can see the gulls. The nurse was sorry and I shook hands with him and so all did and his wife, and she looked at my copybook and said it was good and we sang God save the king when he came and one boy said three cheers and we all did and a tiger and when he came to one boy he said we sang God save the king but you said the king, and he said no little man I am his man in Canada, and he wish him luck and me and the boy said I cause the king by the doctor and in the king and he laffed and when

B.C.'S PROGRAMME AT CONFERENCE TO COVER MANY ISSUES

Transportation Rates and Taxation Big Questions For National Parley

Land Grants, Public Works and Subsidies Also to be Reviewed at Ottawa

British Columbia's programme for the inter-Provincial conference this year, now taking definite shape, embraces many phases of Provincial administration. Practically every department of Government here would be affected by the revision of relations between the Province and the Dominion suggested by the Provincial authorities as the chief work of the conference.

Already preparations of the Province's case is under way on instructions from Premier Oliver. The first document to be prepared for the use of the Government is a history of British Columbia's relations with the Dominion in the utmost detail from the time of Confederation onward. The purpose of this history is to parallel the similar record which the Federal Government is now preparing for the information of the Provinces. With these two chronicles before them, delegates at the conference will have an accepted historical basis to work on in attempting to improve the inter-provincial relations of the future. Five questions bulk largely in the minds of provincial ministers as topics for the consideration of the national gathering. In addition to railway grant land ownership, transportation rates and subsidies, already known to be subjects of discussion with the Federal Government, taxation powers and the cost of public works are questions which British Columbia feels must be settled by the conference.

TAXATION QUESTIONS

A revision of the Federal and Provincial fields of taxation is regarded by the Provincial Government as one of the most pressing needs of this country. Since the time of Confederation, it is pointed out, taxation conditions have changed completely, conceptions of government itself have altered and the present taxation position of the Province requires a general overhaul, it is felt.

An exploration of the taxation situation would open up a wide field for the conference. At the moment there is no very clear understanding on the part of the Provincial authorities here or in other parts of Canada where the Provincial taxation powers end and where Dominion powers begin. This no doubt has caused difficulties like the fuel oil tax, which the Legislature considered quite constitutional but which the British Columbia courts and the Canadian Supreme Court promptly quashed as being a levy falling within the Federal field.

INCOME TAXATION

It is the income tax, however, which causes the most controversy at this time. "Under present conditions, British Columbia has to support a most unsatisfactory arrangement," Premier Oliver stated in discussing this matter. "In the first place, government here costs relatively more than in other provinces because of the mountainous condition of the country."

"In the second place, this condition is aggravated by the fact that we are charged more than other parts of the Dominion for transportation because the railways contend that the cost of operation in a mountainous country is relatively high. "Then on top of all this we find that the Dominion is benefiting very largely indeed from those very mountains which are so costly to us. This is done through the Federal income tax which is made up in British Columbia largely from the levy on the output of a few large mines in the mountains. In other words, we pay heavily on account of our mountains while the Federal Government derives heavy revenues from them. This, to my mind, appears a most unsatisfactory arrangement."

FINANCIAL BURDENS

Increasing financial demands on the Provincial treasuries have thrown the financial machinery built by the Fathers of Confederation completely out of gear, the Provincial authorities contend. A good example of this condition is found in the present school situation, according to the official view here. When the Dominion was formed the task of educating the young man was placed on the shoulders of the provinces, the Federal Government assuming no responsibility for it. At that time the provinces apparently assumed this responsibility willingly enough as the load then was not great. But to-day conditions are entirely different. Since 1867 the world's idea of state education has developed. What seemed sufficient schooling for a child in those days would be regarded as entirely inadequate to-day. This development of education has cost the provinces enormous sums until to-day education is one of the biggest expenses that the Provincial Governments must cover in their budgets. The idea of Federal assistance for education, which is being devoted more and more to the cultivation of citizenship in place of provincialism, is worth considering at least, it is felt here.

HEALTH ADMINISTRATION

In the same way health administration presents problems entirely different from those prevailing at the time of Confederation. In those days systematic sanitation like that practiced to-day was unknown. In assuming responsibility for health administration the provinces were not undertaking a very heavy task while to-day the cost of this work is extremely high. Here again is a subject which should be considered in any revision of the nation's family budget, provincial officials argue. In the same way many other anomalies have developed in the relations between the Dominion and the Provinces, it is asserted.

Federal public works are another subject to which the Government here is giving its attention. As every province contributes to the Federal Treasury out of which these works are paid for, every province is interested in them. Where they are located and where the money is spent is a matter of vital concern to the Provincial authorities here.

TRANSPORTATION RATES

Perhaps the biggest question of all, in the opinion of the British Columbia authorities, is that of transportation rates. If this Province could secure substantial reductions in the cost of moving its products eastward and in the movement of eastern goods westward, the development of business prosperity, in fact, that a reduction in this direction is regarded as transcending in importance perhaps any other matter that could come before the inter-provincial conference.

It is the hope of the Provincial Government that the revision of Canadian railway rates in advance of the conference and granted British Columbia substantial profits. But if this has not been done before the Provincial representatives meet, the delegation from this Province can be counted upon to make reduced rates one of the main planks of its platform.

RAILWAY LANDS

British Columbia's right to the railway lands granted to the Dominion at the time of Confederation probably will be the subject of a ruling before the conference by Mr. Justice Martin, of Saskatchewan, the Federal Government's investigator. In this way, it is expected here that the ruling may well form the basis of discussion at the meeting. Should it reject the Province's claim to these lands British Columbia will raise the issue anew at the conference when, it is thought here, Alberta will bring up the question of its natural resources and their transfer to Provincial control.

In arguing for a revision of Federal Government subsidies to the Provinces, British Columbia will be able to make out a strong case, the Government believes. While detailed figures on this point are still under preparation here, enough data has been prepared to show that of the total sum paid by the Dominion to the various provinces between 1867 and 1921, the date of the last census,

Cordova Bay Springs Not to Be Developed

Saanich last night officially abandoned application to the Province for water rights affecting springs above Cordova Bay. The control of these springs was sought last Fall as a source of water supply for the Cordova Bay area, alternative to extension of the municipal waterworks at great expense, from Reynolds Street by way of Blenkinsop Road. Estimates of the cost of developing the springs show this method of supplying the district is not advisable.

Saanich Gives Money Grant to Musical Festival

Harold Beckwith and George T. Watson last night appealed to the Saanich Council on behalf of the Victoria Musical Festival and obtained a grant of $100. Mr. Beckwith stated the number of entries have greatly exceeded preliminary estimates, and expenses are therefore above early calculations. Eight Saanich schools are entering choirs, he stated. Mr. Watson stated: "It is a remarkable testimony to Victoria, as a musical city, that the number of competitors in the first Musical Festival—organized here exceeds the number taking part in the fourth festival at Vancouver."
